

POLY RADIATION

BRASS - ELEKTRO - POP

POLY RADIATION combines electronic and danceable pop music with the authentic and unique sound of brass bands. In addition to impressive stage shows, the 14 musicians also generate creative video productions and are currently producing their first album on their own – after a successful concert season in 2022, this album will be showcased at festivals in 2023.

True to the motto "bring back the brass", POLY RADIATION combines club sounds of the 21st century with traditional brass sound and thus creates a timeless synthesis. Electronic soundscapes meet acoustic wind instruments and allow pop, RnB, soul and disco funk to shine in a new light. The close cooperation with the producer duo POLY POLY and singer Victor Rodriguez results in a unique sound that encourages dancing, is suitable for clubs and attracts more and more attention from bookers and festivals from pop to jazz.

By collaborating with programmers, illustrators, authors, editors and many more, the band opens up spaces for innovative and creative work. This also made it possible to produce the first music videos as 360° comic book adaptations and to design a unique stage design: The band, dressed completely in white, creates a futuristic sight, which is supported by a spherical and at the same time energetic live show.
